Eco Equity advancing build of medical cannabis facility in Zimbabwe and enters new UK retail venture

Eco Equity's Jon-Paul Doran updates Proactive London's Andrew Scott on the progress they're making in Zimbabwe as to the build and construction of its state-of-the-art facility to grow pharmaceutical-grade cannabis.

"We're about 85% of the way towards completion on the foundations for the 20,800 square metre greenhouse... 1500 metres of electric fence has also gone around the site which is manned 24/7 and powered by solar ... there's been a lot of work in country".

He says they're extremely delighted with the progress and are targeting the end of Q3 to begin exporting product.

Doran also says they're about to take their first foray into the retail space in the UK with an e-commerce platform.
