VolitionRX progressing towards launch of first commercial products using Nu.Q platform

VolitionRx Limited's (NYSEAMERICAN:VNRX) Cameron Reynolds tells Proactive the firm rounded out the second quarter with $21.3 million in cash and equivalents compared to $12 million in the same quarter a year ago. The company's now tested two independent cohorts of COVID-19 positive patients with quantitative nucleosome immunoassays and found that nucleosomes were "highly elevated" in plasma of severe COVID-19 patients relative to healthy control subjects. Reynolds says the data implies that Nu.Q could have strong prognostic potential.

Company Synopsis:

Volition is a multi-national life sciences company developing simple, easy to use blood-based cancer tests to accurately diagnose a range of cancers. The tests are based on the science of Nucleosomics®, which is the practice of identifying and measuring nucleosomes in the bloodstream or other bodily fluid -- an indication that disease is present. .
